FRIGHTFUL ATTACK ON JEWS AT GOMEL, BY THE MOUJIKS

Brutal Attacks on Weak Women.

NOT PROTECTED

The Maddened Rioters Are Allowed to Wreak Vengeance on the Sons of Abraham.

(Special by Scripps-Mellie.)
Bucharest, Roumania, September 23.—Dispatches this morning from the anti-Jew riots at Homel, Russia, says that the accounts were exaggerated although many persons were maimed for life; the loss of life was not as great as has been reported previously. The Russian government, as in the Kishineff massacre, remains inactive and it is thought there will be a recurrence of the riots at any time.

Jews Protect Women.

The trouble arose on Sept. 11, when Christian dealers forcibly despoiled Jewish peddlers who refused to lower the price of herrings. The next day the riot was renewed. The Jews disregarding the instructions to keep off the streets because they felt compelled to rescue their women, who were being assaulted, and their fellow men, who were being tortured. At the last accounts quiet was restored. The town practically is under martial law, work is at a standstill and bread is scarce.

Urge Moujiks to Vengeance.

London, Sept. 23.—The Times cites the Gomel affair as an instance of how little faith can be placed in the official versions of such happenings. It gives, from a private letter written from Gomel during the progress of the riots, an account of the origin, which is similar to that issued by the Jewish relief committee in Berlin.

This account says that after the outbreak on Friday a number of anti-Semitic agitators went about inflaming the passions of the Moujiks and exhorting them not to leave their fellow Christians unavenged.

This continued on Saturday, the 12th, and Sunday, the 13th. The Jewish leaders had in the meantime been urging their followers on no account to give any cause for fresh disturbances. All the drinking shops were kept closed and most of the Jews remained indoors, while the streets were patrolled.

Soldiers Aid the Mob.

On Monday, the 14th, however, the workmen in the railway shops organized a meeting at noon on the principal streets. About 100 men assembled and began to break the windows and enter and plunder the houses of Jews. A number of Jews began to gather in self-defense, but the soldiers prevented them from entering the streets where the plundering was going on, forcing them back to their houses and beating and arresting those who did not obey. Other soldiers in the meanwhile stood by while the mob was going on with its work of plunder and committing all kinds of excesses.

Troops Fire on Jews.

"One could hear the shrieks of the children in the streets which the patrols had blocked against help from the Jews outside," says the writer, "and when some Jews tried to force their way down side street the soldiers fired on them, killing six. The police did not show themselves anywhere. The troops alone were on duty, and they protected the rioters."

When the above letter was dispatched the rioting still was going on. Four streets, it was believed, had been wrecked, but nothing definite is known as to the loss of life. As Gomel had 26,000 Jews out of a total population of 40,000, there may be only too much foundation for the reports that it had been a second and even worse edition of Kishineff.

WILL NOT ADMIT FILIPINO BOY

School Board at Princeton, Ind., Draws
the Color Line.

Princeton, Ind., Sept. 23.—The school board at Princeton has decided not to admit a Filipino boy into the public schools. P. T. Gilbert, who is the instructor in English of the Princeton public schools, while he was in the Orient took a liking to a Filipino boy and decided to send him to school. The lad is 12 years old and intelligent. When Prof. Gilbert expressed his intention of placing the boy in the public schools the color line was raised and the prejudice against the little fellow became so great that the members of the school board were forced to call a meeting and decided against the boy. Prof. Gilbert was much disappointed over the decision of the board and will send the Filipino to Cincinnati.

Secretary of the Navy Moody made a tour of inspection of the United States naval home in Philadelphia.

IMPEACH PRESIDENT THEODORE J. SHAFFER

Head of the Amalgamated Association to Be Fired by the Executive Board.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 23.—Theodore J. Shaffer, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, has been impeached. His trial will take place at the union headquarters in this city on Friday.

The charges against Shaffer have not been made public, but they are pretty well understood, nevertheless. Two weeks prior to Labor day Shaffer was absent from his office, although several important wage scales were to be decided, and the strike at the Port Vlue tinplate works, since lost, was pending. Shaffer's whereabouts were not known to the public until he appeared at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., on Labor day. He made a brief address and suddenly disappeared again, but reported at the Pittsburg office a day or two later. Also there is considerable feeling among the members of the association on account of the failure of the strike against the United States Steel corporation two years ago.

It is alleged that Shaffer failed to attend the convention of sheetworkers which he had called to better the condition of the trade. The Continental tube works is working without signing a scale and many other concerns are not respecting the organization's rules.

President Shaffer positively refuses to talk on the subject, merely saying: "Sooner or later I will make a statement."

POLICE WIRED TO HOLD SUSPECT

Message from Springfield to Arrest
Man Named McDevitt—Found at Hotel.

Word was received last evening from Springfield, Ill., that a man by the name of McDevitt, who was supposed to be in Janeville, was wanted in the Illinois town. Officer Brown located the man at the Park hotel and took him in charge. A second wire was received later in the night which said to hold the man until the arrival of an officer who will be here. It is expected, during the day. No charge was stated from what McDevitt had said that he had been employed by some firm and may be short in his accounts. He arrived at the Park hotel here yesterday. After being locked up he said that if he had known he was arrested on a charge from Springfield, he would demand a warrant.

WANT WARNER FOR GOVERNOR

Asking Him to Run.

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 23.—Republicans of Platt county gathered in convention at Monticello passed the following resolution by unanimous vote: "Resolved, by the Republicans of Platt county, in convention assembled, That we indorse Col. Vespasian Warner for governor of Illinois and request him to be a candidate for the Republican nomination." Platt county turned the tide in favor of Warner for congressman ten years ago and now says it will be the first to bring him out for governor. Hitherto the county has been thought to be a Hawaiian stronghold.

ARMED BY TURKEY

Reports Tell of the General Order in Eastern Turkey
To Kill All Bulgarians—True Followers of Mohammed Armed with Weapons.

(Special by Scripps-Mellie.) Vienna, Sept. 23.—A dispatch from a correspondent of the Scripps-Mellie in Kelik Kilisa, in eastern Turkey, says the authorities have distributed arms among the Mohammedans, declaring that the powers have given the sultan carte blanche and ordering them to exterminate the Bulgarian inhabitants. Fifty villages, he adds, have been destroyed. At Evkarion the Mohammedans piloted the church. Drunken soldiers later paraded the streets in priest's vestments. Many of them captured women and girls and took them to the Turkish camps.

FORMER PRINCE DIES A MONK

To Become a Recluse in the Monks' Home.

Prague, Sept. 23.—Brother Karl, probably the most famous member of the Benedictine Order of Monks, is dead. Before entering the cloister he was Prince Edwin Schoenbauer, an officer of the Austrian emperor's guard. At 35 his tastes suddenly changed. One day he rode to the Benedictine abbey from the parade ground and asked to be admitted to the priory. He gave a large fortune to the order and spent his days working among the poor.

MAY CHECK IRISH EMIGRATION NOW

Passage of the Irish Land Bill Brings Anxious Inquiries from America.

London, Sept. 23.—Interest has been evoked here by a letter from Secretary O'Calahan of the United Irish League of America to Mr. Condon, M. P., saying that since the passage of the Irish land act many evicted tenants now residing in the United States have made many anxious inquiries regarding the possibility of reacquiring their former holdings. Mr. O'Calahan expressed the belief that, should a large proportion of the inquirers be able to do so, it would go far toward solving the question of immigration and turn the tide back to Ireland.

Citizens of Blox, Pa., have erected a monument to the memory of John Schaeffer, a railroad watchman who was killed recently while attempting to save the life of a woman who was crossing the Reading tracks.

WESTERN BANDITS STOPPED A FAST EXPRESS TRAIN

ROOSEVELT IS FIRM IN STAND FOR MILLER

Positively Refuses to Recede From Position He Has Taken in Regard to Reinstatement.

Washington, Sept. 23.—President Roosevelt will not recede from his position in the matter of discrimination in favor of union labor in the government printing office. If certain conservative members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, among them John Mitchell, can prevail in the councils of the leaders the affair will not be carried to a political issue.

Representative Cannon was asked what effect the labor controversy will have on the national campaign and what the attitude of party leaders would be if the question was made an issue. He was averse to discussing the matter, but said he thought it would right itself if left to labor leaders themselves. He said he thought the movement was one which would cool off if given time.

Facts and figures concerning the cost of all work done in the government printing office in the last year are being compiled. Labor leaders have received a hint that the purpose of this is to use the data for a comparison with the cost of the same work in offices using labor-saving machinery. In the event that the Miller case is made an issue, trade unions interested have been told if the Miller case is used to threaten the administration the comparisons would be made public, and these would inevitably result in a public demand for typesetting machines in the government office.

DUMMIES USED IN MOCK WORK

Experiments Made by the German
Army with Targets Using Blank Partridges.

Berlin, Sept. 23.—An extensive system of targets that fire with blank cartridges upon a firing line, using real cartridges was tested yesterday on the drill grounds of the Queen Elizabeth Regiment, Grenadier Guards. The targets which are shaped like the bodies and heads of men armed with rifles, machine guns and artillery, appear and disappear at the will of the commanding officer on touching a button in electrical connection with the targets. The problem of the firing line is to make as many hits as possible on these targets, which are irregularly visible and which at the same time stimulate the conditions of actual war by keeping up a hot blank cartridge fire upon the practitioners. The apparatus is expensive, as it uses up much ammunition, but the trials are thought to be admirably adapted to instill composure in the firing line.

Sherwood was charged with the misappropriation of funds and securities of the Southport National bank to the amount of $100,000. He fled to Panama, but was apprehended and brought back. When the case was called he entered a plea of guilty, retracting his former plea of not guilty.

They Forced Door of the Car, in Face of Messenger, Who Was Overpowered.

ROBBER IS INJURED

They Failed To Secure Any Booty, and Left, with Their Wounded
Companion.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 23.—The Burlington Flyer on the Burlington and Missouri River railroad, bound to this city from Denver, was held up five miles north of this city by four masked men. They forced an entrance to the express car after exchanging shots with the express messenger, and blew open the safe, but officials of the express company and the messenger declare they secured no money.

In the explosion which opened the safe one of the robbers was hurt, badly, it is believed.

A farmer who witnessed the holdup ran to his home and telephoned to Amazonia, two miles away. Citizens at once armed themselves and started to the scene, but before they arrived the burglar's had gone.

Posses in Pursuit.

The train was in charge of Conductor S. E. Harvey of St. Joseph. As soon as he saw the robbers he ran back down the track and secured a hand car on which he came to St. Joseph and notified the officers. Police men and deputy sheriffs to the number of fifty were taken at once to the scene of the holdup in a special train. The two posses are searching the hills.

The robbers stopped the train in a deep cut, using a red light. As it came to a standstill two men climbed into the cab with drawn revolvers and compelled Engineer George Lewis to uncouple the express car from the train and pull it up the track. Then he was forced to uncouple the engine and go farther on.

Robber Is Injured.

Calling to Express Messenger Westphalen to open the door, the robbers attacked the express car. Westphalen refused. A volley of shots were fired at the car and then the door was forced in. The messenger commenced shooting as the robbers climbed in the door, but his shots went wild and he was soon overpowered. A charge of dynamite was then applied to the door and exploded. When the smoke cleared away one of the robbers was lying on the floor groaning.

Carry Companion.

A search of the safe showed that the robbers had been without booty. All the strong box contained was a few ordinary packages, but no money. The wounded man besought his companions not to leave him as they started to escape, and they carried him away, going toward the hills.

When the robbers had disappeared, Engineer Lewis started to Amazonia for the police, but met the posse on the way.

Meanwhile the passengers in the train were in a panic. They did not attempt to give battle to the robbers, but waited quietly until the police came.

IRRIGATION IS NOW NECESSARY

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF THE CANALS IS IMPORTANT,

THE PRESIDENT'S IDEA OF IT

Plans for the Campaign in the Western Country Should Be Laid at Once.

One of the earliest converts to the national irrigation cause, among the prominent men of the east, was Edward Everett Hale, the famous Boston author, divine and philanthropist.

To one of the early missionaries of the movement, Dr. Hale explained that the first public work he ever engaged in was the promotion of emigration to Kansas to preserve the equilibrium of the free and the slave states. He added "now I am for this great movement of yours because I have come to the conclusion that freedom for white men is just as important as freedom for blacks." Economical Significance

By that striking remark the great Bostonian showed that he appreciated the vast social and economic significance of the plan which looks to the reclamation of our neglected empire, in the west and the making of home for millions of people. Some of the issues which are rising in connection with the undertaking do actually involve the problem of giving freedom as opposed to servitude, to white men. Dr. Hale saw that this was so after a very brief consideration of the matter and it would be well indeed if all country men could appreciate the fact as clearly.

The Speculator

To begin with, there is the question as to whether future settlers of the great arid region shall be able to obtain heritage—his share of the public domain—at the government price, or whether he will be compelled to pay tribute to the enterprising speculator who has fore stalled him. Under existing circumstances it is possible for land to be acquired in large amounts by those who have no intention whatever of making a home upon it. Not only is it possible, but the thing is being done by whole-some at the present time. The entire assets of many land and water schemes in the west, on which bonds are issued and sold in the east and abroad, is fertile soil recently carried out of the public domain, with one of the two instruments which our national status provides—the Desert Land law and the commutation clause of the Homestead law.

It is not treating a white man exactly right to steal his property (for that is what it amounts to) and then sell it back to him at ten times what you paid for it. Is it? But that is only one aspect of the matter.

Wrongful Taken

Much of the land which is being wrongfully taken by speculators will be held for the raising of cattle, when it is needed for the raising of children; and then many people will remain homeless who might otherwise be free and independent land proprietors. Then, too, much of this ill-gotten soil will go to form large private estates, which will be cultivated with servile labor or rented to tenants who must share their product with the owner. Current statistics show that tenant farmers have increased in the United States from 25 per cent to 35 per cent during the last ten years. Isn't it about time to start a tendency in the other direction and have the number of land owning farmers increase instead of decrease? The surest way to do it is to save the land we now own; then open them to settlements after they have been irrigated by national enterprise.

The Bad Lands

When these bad land laws are repealed and the statutes made such that only the genuine homeseekers can take up land and he upon the sole condition that he will build his home there and raise crops, the thing will be done chiefly by the influence of the populous states east of the Mississippi river. The reason is easy to understand.

The enterprising citizens of the far west know the value of this public property. They are conveniently situated to file upon it under the present laws. They are inclined to believe that the pioneers of a new country are fairly entitled to enrich themselves from the great fund of unused natural wealth which lies about them on every hand. Hence, they are not, to put it mildly, wildly enthusiastic over the proposition to change the laws.

East and South

In the east and in the south the other side of the shield is presented to view. There live people who need the land for homes for themselves and their children and when in time, will desire to claim their share of it and to use it in good faith. The same impulse of self-interest which makes one section opposed or indifferent renders the other section favorable to the proposition to reserve the people's lands for those to whom they rightfully belong.

Another feature of the national irrigation cause which interested Dr. Hale was the plan of having the ownership of water go with the land. He readily saw that if it were otherwise "freedom for white men", in the full economic sense of the term, would be an empty dream. In a land where artificial moisture must be applied to raise crops the man who owns the water practically owns the land.

Roosevelt's Ideas

In his first message to congress, President Roosevelt used these memorable words:

"Private ownership of water apart from land cannot prevail without causing enduring wrong."

Private speculation in the water supply of the arid region has proven very alluring in the past, though not very profitable to investors. The disappointment was due to the natural disillusionment of the average American citizen to purchase land in a locality where some once else owned the "rain."

Water and Land

Save the public domain, store the floods, join the ownership of land and water, then invite the industrious, aspiring, home loving citizens of the United States to come into their own—this is the way to give "freedom to white men," which is truly as important as freedom for blacks.

JANESEVILLE IS NOT BOthered

Wandering Wilies Who Journey Southward Give JANESEVILLE a Good Wide Berth.

Towns in the northern part of the state and in southern Wisconsin are chronicling the fall exodus of tramps. The wandering fraternity are likely to give JANESEVILLE a goodly share of the reception they receive in this city having become known amongst them and there being too much work in sight they realize that their hard luck stories would not hold here, and the police will give them just a limited time to shake the dust of the city from their feet.

The officers have been looking for a visitation of hoboes going south at an early date this year. A inspection of the records of the police department for the past years indicates that the fall hotel business does not commence until about the middle of October, but from then on until the real cold weather the trade is brisk and there is seldom a night that there is not one or more locked up for lodgings.

Dusty Wille makes it a point to strike the larger places when the frosts of early fall guide his footsteps southward and the greenways are uncomfortable as a bed, making him seek the shelter of the city jails, where he can be supplied with a warm, though sometimes a hard bed, until morning, when he is started on his journey and sometimes escorted to the limits of the city and then told to keep moving in the direction away from town.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Earle returned from their honeymoon trip to Minneapolis and St. Paul Monday evening. Their future home will be at 177 Terrace avenue.

The anniversary celebration of the American Rebekah Lodge will be celebrated at the West Side Odd Fellows Hall Thursday evening. No regular program has been arranged but there will be an address followed by recitations and musical numbers. A banquet will also be held and the evening festivities will close with a dance. A cordial invitation is extended to all Odd Fellows and their families to be present at this session.

Mrs. Victor Richardson gave a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Country club this noon in honor of Mrs. Thomas Richardson Captain and Mrs. Richardson will soon leave for Captain the Phippings, where Captain Richardson's regiment has been ordered for active service.

Mrs. D. E. Fifield and Miss Harriet Fifield entertained at cards yesterday afternoon at their South Main street home. Refreshments were served at 5 o'clock. On Thursday the two ladies will give another afternoon tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bostwick have returned from an extended eastern trip. They were the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Shattuck at Farmingdale, New Jersey, for some time and visited New York and Philadelphia on their way home.

Mrs. Wm. A. Carpenter of Ft. Atkinson, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Carpenter this week.

Miss Ray and Miss Harriet Bostwick will entertain a few ladies on Saturday at their Court Street home.

Mrs. P. L. Myers left this morning for Chicago, where she will be the guest of Mrs. H. M. Pulker.

Mrs. Edward Pratt left this morning for Milwaukee where she will visit her grandmother, Mrs. Hamilton, for a few days.

and everything is expected to move smoothly.

It was announced officially that the following lines had entered the new bureau and would accept the book on their trains: Chicago and Alton, Chicago and North-Western, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Burlington lines in Missouri, Chicago and Great Western, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha, part of the Great Northern, part of the Northern Pacific, Quincy, Omaha and Kansas City and Wisconsin Central. Officials of the roads represented in the new mileage bureau say that all western lines, with the possible exception of the Rock Island, will join the bureau as soon as it is in operation.

Engineer Hays, on the Chicago south-bound passenger, Sunday night made a record-breaking run between Champaign and Mattoon, covering the forty-five miles in thirty-two minutes, the fastest time ever made on the Chicago division or the Illinois Central Railroad.

The train left Champaign at 9:25 p. m. It stopped at Tolono, Posen, Hays, Tuscola, Alton, and Dorans and arrived in Mattoon at 10:25 p. m. A conservative estimate of the time spent at each stop is three minutes, the six stations taking eighteen minutes off the running time. The time consumed in getting out of the Champaign yards was five minutes and the same amount of time was consumed in delays in the Mattoon yards, leaving thirty-two minutes as the running time between the stations—a mile and a third a minute, or eighty miles per hour. Conductor Ryan of Chicago was in charge of the train.

The passenger from St. Paul, due at 4:10 this morning, went through to 5:27. The delay was due to a broken engine.

Brakeman Collins resumed his work of "doing the heavy" on the way freight today.

Railway Notes It was decided at a meeting of passenger traffic officials yesterday that the new 2,000 interchangeable mileage book would go in effect Nov. 1. This action has been taken after several months have been consumed in outlining the new plan of interchangeable mileage and fixing the details so that each road will be satisfied. The new book will be good on trains and no question will be raised as to whether the person presenting it is the purchaser or not. Conductors will avoid questioning the holder as to his identity.

The Soo line has announced that during December it will sell daily round trip tickets from California to St. Paul at the rate of $10; from points beyond Calgary the usual one day rate to Calgary will be added, but not to exceed $5. The Soo has asked the roads south of St. Paul to put into effect a rate of one fare for the round trip from St. Paul to Sioux City, Omaha, Council Bluffs, Cedar Rapids and Des Moines.

NEW PARK NOW MUCH TALKED OF

Interurban Road Said To Be Looking for a Location Between Here and Beloit.

The Rockford, Beloit & JANESEVILLE Railway company is planning to build a suitable tract of land between the two Wisconsin cities which is to be fitted up as a park for the patrons of the line, and which will be an inviting place for outings during the summer, and it will also be made a place where parties can go almost any day and find provision made for their comfort and enjoyment.

The officers of the company have been looking for a tract of land about sixty acres close to their line, midway between JANESEVILLE and Beloit and when such a place can be found it will be purchased and a park made. The company will not make it a money-making scheme but will maintain it as an inducement to more riding on the line, and also providing a good place where parties may spend an afternoon on Sunday.

When the park is secured it will be apportioned so that room will be made for a good baseball ground, dancing pavilion, merry-go-rounds for the children and all sorts of amusements.

At present the company has no place proportionately midway between the two cities where they can maintain a park and picnic grounds but according to Superintendent Nutt they will have a place before the next season is well under way.

APPOINTED MAN TO HELP KLINE

Arthur Fateless Will Be Assistant Secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

This Winter.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening, Arthur Fateless was taken into the office of the association as assistant secretary. The new office was found necessary on account of the increasing interest in Y. M. C. A. work making more help needed. Mr. Fateless is well known in this city and in association circles having had considerable experience in the work. He came to JANESEVILLE from Brockton, Mass., where he was engaged in similar business. Work at the building is rapidly getting into shape under the new plan for the carrying on of the various branches. The bowling alleys opened last evening and the preliminary classes in athletic instruction were also begun with the prospects good for the winter sessions. Interest in the classes is excellent and the inquiries concerning the system under which the gymnasium will be managed are numerous and encouraging.

Another writes: "My little boy 7 years old has been a sufferer for several years, sometimes so bad off that we could not hold him bed, expecting any moment for him to breath his last. Doctors did him no good and we had almost given up in despair, when through accident we heard of Schiffmann's Asthma Cure, tried it and it almost instantly relieved him." Mrs. D. C. Harris, Elbow P. AFTON

Afton, Sept. 21.—The dance given in the Brinkman hall last Thursday.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette Wednesday, Sept. 23, 1863.—The secessed women within our lines in Virginia are many of them dependent upon the government for their daily food, but have the ill-grace to be foul-mouthed and insolent in their treasonable talk. They should be starved into better manners.

Gen. Rosecrans' Campaign—(From the New York Tribune, Sept. 19th, 1863.)—General Rosecrans' advance since the occupation of Chattanooga has been steadily pushed. His plan for the seizure of that stronghold was conceived and developed in such a way as to make the possession of what was really his first objective point incidental to the progress of the comprehensive campaign which contemplates the complete military occupation of the mountainous regions of northern Georgia and the final capture of Atlanta. The columns which flanked Chattanooga on the south and west were in the direct line of advance to Rome, is itself long step towards Atlanta, connected with it by railroad, and of very great intrinsic importance as the site of extensive powder mills and other manufactures. It will be remembered as the point aimed at and nearly reached by the ill-fated expedition under Colonel Streight, the destruction of its mills being then the chief object.

Like the campaigns which General Rosecrans has previously executed, the present is gigantic in extent and beset with inconceivable difficulties. He operates in a mountainous region over roads nearly impossible, and often over mountains which no road has ever crossed, putting great distances between his separate columns and still greater between them and their bases of supplies, and confronting at every step obstacles which, to a less resolute commander, would seem insurmountable. It follows of course that such a campaign is a work of time, and its progress is over the enemy.

General Rosecrans All Right!—The news from Gen. Rosecrans' army is of the most cheering character. He expects to win a victory over the enemy.

If a most beautiful day is an omen the new Catholic church, the corner stone of which was laid Sunday afternoon, will have a pleasant history. The T. A. B. society and cadets accompanied by the Edgerton cornet band escorted Rev. J. E. Harlin and the visiting priests from the home of the former to the new church where an exceptionally large crowd was awaiting the ceremonies.

The new candidates were drilled in punting, tackling, running down punts, and other rudiments of the game, while the elder men and the more promising new candidates worked at simple formations. Coach McCarthy gave the backs a great deal of individual coaching.

Coach Curtis spent his time largely with the line men, instructing them at blocking and breaking through, and toward the finish of practice put Rump, Bertke, and Findlay to work breaking through the line and tackling the runner. They were able to do repeatedly, as the men in the varsity line were slow and awkward in their positions.

The two systems of southwestern railway communication centered at Chattanooga, and the conquest of that place, and Knoxville, severed the northern line.

Between the former and the present capital of the confederacy, Montgomery and Richmond, there is now no railway communication, except by the road which turns east at Atlanta and runs to Augusta, thence by two lines reaching northwardly into Virginia; and even portions of these are held by the most precarious tenure. Of course, with the capture of Atlanta involves also the subjugation of northern Georgia, the present campaign of General Rosecrans aims at nothing less than the military isolation of Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia from the remaining states of South Carolina, North Carolina, and Virginia. The southern portion of Georgia; indeed, cannot be affected by this success, but may speedily find itself threatened from another quarter.

BOLD THIEVES ENTER HOMES

FIVE HOUSES ON MILTON AVENUE BURGLARIZED LAST NIGHT.

CASH IN SMALL SUMS TAKEN

Got Away Without Being Seen—But Two Residents Hear Commotion During Night.

A series of bold robberies were eventually carried out last night on Milton avenue and vicinity, the thieves breaking into five houses and escaping without having been seen and only in one case, heard. Cash amounting to nearly twenty dollars was taken from closets, desks and bureau drawers while a ring and several other small articles are missing. It is not known whether there was one or more men concerned in the house breaking and no track of the perpetrators has been obtained.

Took Seven Dollars

The thieves gained entrance to J. H. Fallows' residence through the front door. Seven dollars and a finger ring was taken and several rooms apparently searched. No one in the house was disturbed.

J. M. Hindes Robbed

J. M. Hindes' daughter was awakened during the night by some noise and thinking her father was ill went to his room and woke him. They decided that the noise must have been caused by windows rattling and thought no more about it. In the morning Mr. Hindes found burnt matches scattered around the house, five dollars gone from his clothes and the rooms generally upset. His gold watch, luckily, was untouched. Two vests were hanging from a chair, one contained the watch but was not touched, but the other had been searched and the money gone.

Three from Decker

J. A. Decker was the third victim and the unwelcome visitors relieved him of three dollars. Two rooms, a sleeping apartment and a dining room were ransacked, the thieves gaining entrance through a window on the first floor. Mrs. Decker heard a noise in the night and got up but did not awaken any one or see anything wrong. This was between two and three o'clock this morning, and it is thought that all the houses were broken into about this time. Mr. Hughes' home further out, was also entered during the night but so far no articles have been missed.

BELOIT PLAYERS ARE COMING OUT

First Football Practice at the Congregational School Occurred Yesterday.

Football practice has begun at Keppel athletic field, Beloit. Yesterday a small bunch of players were out under the direction of Coach Hollister and Capt. Slater. As college did not open until today, few of the candidates are on hand, but the outlook is encouraging. Hollister hopes to get the team together to play the Beloit high school Saturday. Another practice game will be played in Beloit Oct. 3 and then will follow games with Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota. On Oct. 31, either the Marquette college or the Oshkosh normal game will be played at Beloit and on Nov. 7, Beloit will meet Notre Dame in Beloit. A game is scheduled between Knox and Beloit for Thanksgiving day, at either Beloit or Davenport.

WATCH DOG WAS KILLED TUESDAY

"Schneider," the railway dog at the Rock River Interlocking tower and property of Operator A. V. Lyle, is dead. He tried to stop train No. 146 on the St. Paul road which passed the tower at 5:15 yesterday afternoon and was thrown 200 feet from the track. When the news of his death spread around the neighborhood a crowd of thirty or more residents of Spring Brook gathered around and viewed the remains. Every family in the district knew the dog, who was a great favorite. "Schneider" was buried with appropriate ceremonies and now Mr. Lyle and Night Operator Phillips must spend the lonely vigils at the tower without the companionship of their mutual friend.

TOBACCO HARVEST NEARLY COMPLETE

Frost Has Done But Little Damage to the Crop, and Curing Progresses Favorably.

The harvest of the tobacco crop is now practically finished and the frost has done no serious damage. The warm, clearing weather this week is proving decidedly beneficial to curing the tobacco in sheds. The buying movement, which was suspended to await the result of the curing, has not yet been resumed except in a limited way. Only about 1,000 acres is believed to have been purchased to date, and the greater portion of this is in Vernon county sections. Packers are preparing samples of the 1902 crop, which will soon be ready for market. Among the outside buyers in the state at present are W. S. Brill, B. Lichtenstein, and G. W. Spitzer of New York, C. E. Crawford of Philadelphia, and J. Beinhorn of Elmira, N. Y.

ROB POSTOFFICE IN SMALL TOWN

EMERALD GROVE VISITED BY ROBBERS LAST NIGHT.

A HORSE IS ALSO MISSING

Believed That the Robbers Left with the Stolen Animal Early This Morning.

Emerald Grove is much excited today over the announcement that burglars last night entered the general store of Gibbs & Jones and after thoroughly ransacking the establishment left after securing between seventy-five and a hundred dollars worth of stamps. Just when the burglary was committed is not known as no noise was heard during the night and the clerk who sleeps above the store was not awakened.

Left Town Documents

Mr. Jones is the town treasurer of the town of Turtle and all of the town's papers, but no money was in a large safe that stood open in the building. This was not disturbed and it is thought the burglars who did the work must have been frightened off before they had time to see if anything of value was in the safe.

Took Stamps

The stamps and small change was taken from the postoffice side of the store. The exact sum cannot be learned yet but it is in the neighborhood of a hundred dollars. Sheriff Appleby has been notified and Deputy Cochran drove out this morning to investigate the affair.

Stole a Horse

A horse belonging to one of the Gowers was also taken from a barn near the store and it is believed that the same parties that robbed the store took the animal. It was a horse that has been used for farm work.

My Strangest Case

CHAPTER I.

It has often struck me as being a remarkable circumstance that, in nine cases out of ten, a man's success in life is not found in the career he originally chose for himself, but in another and totally different one. That mysterious power, "force of circumstances," is doubtless responsible for this, and no better illustration for my argument could be found than my own case. I believe my father intended that I should follow the medical profession, while my mother hoped I would enter the church. My worthy uncle, Clutterfield, the eminent solicitor of Lincoln's Inn Fields, offered me my articles, and would possibly have eventually taken me into partnership. But I would have none of these things. My one craving was for the sea. If I could not spend my life upon salt water, existence would have no pleasure for me. My father threatened, my mother wept, Uncle Clutterfield prophesied all sorts of disasters, but I remained firm.

"Very well," said my father, when he realized that further argument was hopeless, "since you must go to sea, go to sea you certainly shall. But that you mustn't blame me if you find that the life is not exactly what you anticipate, and that you would prefer yourself on dry land once more."

I willingly gave this promise, and a month later left Liverpool as an apprentice on the clipper ship Maid of Normandy. Appropriately enough the captain's name was Fairweather, and he certainly was a character in his way. In fact the whole ship's company were originals. Had my father searched all England through he could not have discovered a set of men, from the captain to the cook's mate, who would have been better calculated to instill in a young man's heart a distaste for Father Neptune and his oceans. In the number of the various books of the sea I have encountered was one entitled: "A Floating Hell." When reading it I had not expected to have the misfortune to be bound aboard a vessel of this type. It was my lot, however, to undergo the experience. We carried three apprentices, including myself, each of whom had paid a large sum for the privilege. I was the youngest. The eldest was the son of a country parson, a mild, decent lad, who eventually deserted and became a house-painter in the South Island of New Zealand. The next was washed overboard when we were rounding the Horn on our homeward voyage. Poor lad, when all was said and done he could not have been much worse off, for his life on board was a disgrace to what is sometimes erroneously called "human nature." In due course, as we cleared for San Francisco, and long before we crossed the line, I was heartily tired of the sea. In those days, few years ago as it is, sailors were not so well protected even as they are now, and on a long voyage aboard a sailing ship it was possible for a good deal to happen that was not logged, and much of which was forgotten before the vessel reached its home-port again. When I returned from my first voyage my family inquired how I liked my profession, and with all truth, I informed them that I did not like it at all, and that I would be willing to have my indentures canceled and to return to shore life once more, if I might be so permitted. My father smiled grimly, and seemed to derive considerable satisfaction from the fact that he had prophesied disaster from the outset.

"No," he said, "you have made your bed, my lad, and now you must lie upon it. There is still a considerable portion of your apprenticeship to be served, and it will be quite soon enough for us at the end of that time to decide what you are to do."

A month later I was at sea again, bound this time for Sydney. We reached that port on my nineteenth birthday, and by that time I had made up my mind. Articles or no articles, I was determined to spend no more of my life on board that hateful ship. Accordingly, one day having obtained shore leave, I purchased a new rig-out and, leaving my sea-togs with the Jewish shopman, I made tracks, as the saying goes, into the bush with all speed. Happen what might, I was resolved that Capt. Fairweather should not set eyes on George Fairfax again.

From that time onward my career was a strange one. I became a veritable Jack-of-all-trades. A station-hand, a roustabout, shearer, assistant to a traveling hawker, a gold miner, and at last a trooper in one of the finest bodies of men in the world, the Queensland mounted police. It was in this curious fashion that I arrived at my real vocation. After a considerable period spent at headquarters, I was drafted to a station in the far west. There was a good deal of horse and sheep stealing going on in that particular locality, and a large amount of tact and ingenuity was necessary to discover the criminals. I soon found that this was a business at which I was likely to be successful. More than once I had the good fortune to be able to bring to book men who had carried on their trade for years, and who had been entirely unsuspected. Eventually my reputation in this particular line of business became noised abroad, until

SOLDIERS INDULGE IN LIQUOR

Chaffee Reports More Than 16,000 Trials in One Year.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The annual report of Maj. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, commanding the department of the East, says that seven officers and 1,438 men were tried by general court martial during the year. Two officers and seventy-nine men were acquitted. The number of men tried for desertion was 398. The number tried by summary court was 16,142, of whom 2,518 were convicted of drunkenness. Gen. Chaffee urged that after the adoption of an army uniform it shall be adhered to without constant changes and alterations. He says the time seems opportune for the adoption of a pack in lieu of the blanket roll for foot troops. The blanket roll, in his opinion, is an inconvenient thing. He also recommends that the cartridge belt be carried on braces in order that the weight may be transferred to the shoulders.

WANT STRONGER ORGANIZATION

Indiana Federation of Labor Directs Change of Its Constitution.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 23.—The Indiana Federation of Labor convention is in session here. The address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Edward J. Fogarty, who is himself a union man. Joseph F. Suchanek, a former president of the federation, responded in behalf of organized labor, urging the unions to do everything in their power which would promote the welfare of labor. President Perkins responded briefly in behalf of the convention. The convention instructed the committee on law to make a complete revision of the present constitution in such a way as to strengthen the organization and enable the state officers to advance the principles of the organization at all times.

FLOUR MILL STRIKE IMMINENT

Mill Owners Refuse to Concede Eight-Hour Day to Loaders.

Minneapolis, Sept. 23.—A general strike of the flour mill employees, who will shut every mill in Minneapolis, seems certain. Both sides have issued ultimata, and it is now up to the unions to walk out.

The mill owners say the demand made for an eight-hour day for flour loaders is unreasonable. They maintain that the men are nothing more than common laborers, and that they are now getting 20 cents an hour for ten hours, which they think makes a reasonable wage.

They say the installing of an eight-hour day would necessitate an entire change in the system of work and increase materially the cost of production. In answer to this the men say that the work of the loaders is the heaviest of all mill employees, and that they should not be expected to work two hours longer than their fellow workmen.

Court Orders Indictment.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 23.—Judge Asher G. Garth of the Criminal court has ordered the September grand jury to return an indictment against George Warner for the killing of Hulst Leeds, superintendent of machinery of the Louisville & Nashville railroad.

Inject Poison to Kill Victim.

Moscow, Sept. 23.—The discovery of the body of a well-dressed man in a wicker basket which arrived as luggage at the first railway station here has developed a strange case of murder by the injection of poison by a hypodermic syringe.

Former Master Saves Negro.

St. Paul, Sept. 23.—Herman Taylor, a negro who was born in Kentucky in the days of slavery, was saved from the workhouse by his former master, Walter C. Confarr, who appealed to the court.

J. K. Jones' Daughter Dies.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Frank W. Plant, daughter of James K. Jones of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic committee, died of heart disease at Deer River, Minn., while camping with her husband.

A GREAT TRUTH.

How It Has Spread From Home to Home in Janesville

In every part of Janesville; in the homes of the wealthy, in the humble abode of the man of toil, 'tis now a well-known fact—a great truth—that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought more comfort to backache sufferers and cured more sick kidneys than any medicine of modern times.

Mr. H. P. Hanson of 103 Pleasant St., engineer employed at the Janesville Machine Co., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me all the good that could be expected and I recommend them to any one who may be troubled with lame back or any kidney disorder. After procuring them at the People's Drug Store I took them and felt better, sleep better, my back did not ache like it did, and I did not rise in the morning with a lame and sore back. I suffered from these symptoms for four or five years and I was more than pleased at the results obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Miss Sudendorf Suffered From Impure Blood

Elgin, Ill., August 30, 1903

E. Sudendorf, Secretary the National Creamery Buttermaker's Association, says: My daughter was troubled every spring with weakness and insomnia accompanied with the most painful and irritating eczema. The doctors diagnosed it as impure blood. A friend who had been cured of impure blood by Paine's Celery Compound recommended it and she has taken three or four bottles of Paine's Celery Compound each spring and fall for the past five years and has ever since enjoyed the best of health.

Women's Headaches

542 1/2 Congress Street.

Portland, Maine, Oct. 17, 1902.

I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pain would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell up and I could not stand up, naturally felt discouraged for I seemed beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After fifteen days treatment I menstruated without suffering agonies I usually did and soon became regular and without pain.

Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Snow

Treasurer, Portland Economic League.

Headaches are the danger signals of coming disease. Both men and women suffer headaches, but periodical headache falls only to the lot of women and is the unerring sign of irregular menstruation and bearing down pains. Completely prostrated by nine months of suppressed menses, blinded by headaches and racked with pain Mrs. Snow was made a strong and healthy woman again. Remember with Wine of Cardui no case is hopeless because this great remedy cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases and never fails to benefit a case of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. If you are discouraged and doctors have failed, try Wine of Cardui, and try it now. Remember that headaches mean female weakness. Secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui today.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

FROST DAMAGE
IS NOT SERIOUS

CORN CROP ESCAPES INJURY

One to Two Weeks of Sunshine Will Mature the Plant in Regions Where
Seeding Was Late—Delay in Spring
Wheat Threshing.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The weekly summary issued by the weather bureau says while the week has been abnormally cool, with general frosts throughout the central valleys and as far south as the northern portion of the central Gulf states, the damage has not been serious, except in the extreme western portions of Kansas and Nebraska, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and New England. The south Atlantic states have suffered from excessive moisture, while the heavy rains of the previous week over the northern portions of the Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys delayed threshing of spring wheat and caused grain in shock to sprout. Drought has been largely relieved in the east Gulf states, but continues in the Ohio Valley, Tennessee and in the central and western Gulf states. The Pacific Coast states have experienced a very favorable week.

No Harm to Corn.

Notwithstanding the occurrences of light to heavy frosts generally throughout the corn belt, the corn crop has escaped injury, except in the western portions of Kansas and Nebraska and in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin. A large part of the crop is now safe, but the bulk of the immature will require from one to two weeks of favorable weather.

The weather has been favorable for the completion of spring wheat harvest on the north Pacific Coast. In the Dakotas and Minnesota spring wheat in shock has been injured and threshing delayed by wet weather.

Boll Worms in Cotton.

Except in portions of the eastern districts of the cotton belt, where cotton picking has been interrupted by rains, the weather conditions have been very favorable for gathering the crop, and this work has progressed rapidly. The prevalence of rust, shedding and boll worms is widespread, and the boll weevil in Texas continues destructive. The outlook for a crop is not promising. Late tobacco has suffered from drought in Tennessee and Kentucky, and heavy rains in North Carolina, and frosts caused some injury in Kentucky. The bulk of the crop is now housed, the reports continue to indicate extensive prevalence of blight and decay of potatoes.

Plowing and seedling have advanced satisfactorily except in the Ohio Valley and Tennessee, where the soil has been too dry, and in the northern portion of the middle Atlantic states, where there has been too much rain.

Confidence Men Are Shot.

Steubenville, O., Sept. 23.—Two alleged confidence men who relieved John Kerr, a wealthy farmer of East Springfield, of $3,000 on the road ten miles west of this city, were run down by posse of farmers and captured after being shot a number of times.

Overhaul Big Battleship.

New York, Sept. 23.—After being tied up to a dock for more than two years the triple-screw cruiser Columbia is to be overhauled and placed in shape for service with the training squadron.

Pope Has Rheumatism.

London, Sept. 23.—A dispatch from Rome says the pope is suffering from rheumatism and audiences have been suspended. His sister Antonia is critically ill at Venice.

DYNAMITE KILLS AND MAIMS

Accidental Explosion Brings Death to

Harrisburg, Ill., Sept. 23.—At the new Davenport mines, four miles south of this city, seventy-five pounds of dynamite accidentally exploded, killing one man instantly, fatally wounding another and seriously wounding two others, besides blowing two buildings, in which the dynamite was kept, to atoms. The dynamite and caps were kept together in a box in the building. From some unknown cause the building caught fire, and the alarm was given to run.
